Introduction.

Volkswagen's engineers are constantly working to produce cars that offer great performance with better fuel economy and fewer harmful emissions. Our BlueMotion and BlueMotion Technology models are the most efficient and economical within the range.

Cars which wear the BlueMotion badge (available in the Polo, Golf, Passat and Passat Estate ranges) offer customers the highest level of economy and exemplary environmental credentials. These models feature the full complement of Volkswagen's innovative range of energy-saving technologies, from an automatic Start/Stop function to low rolling resistance tyres, which work in synergy with advanced common rail diesel engines and gearboxes to cut fuel consumption and reduce harmful emissions. Other fuel-saving features include improved aerodynamics and battery regeneration (recuperation – energy recovery during braking). The combination of these features helps to reduce the day-to-day costs of running a fleet, as well as its environmental impact.

The breadth of BlueMotion Technology modifications varies from model range to model range. But whatever company car you're looking for, there's sure to be one with a BlueMotion Technology variant, as the line-up now includes; Golf, Golf Estate, Golf Cabriolet, Golf Plus, Jetta, Passat, Passat Estate, new Volkswagen CC, Scirocco, Tiguan, Eos, Touran, Sharan and Touareg, as well as the most recent addition to the range, the new up!

Featuring a Start/Stop function, battery regeneration and a multifunction computer which includes visual gear change recommendations for improved fuel consumption – cars which display the unique BlueMotion Technologies badge strike a balance between reducing fleet costs and maintaining the driver's safety and comfort.
